

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to a pharmaceutical composition comprising Factor VIIa for subcutan, intramuscular or interdermal administration.

5

Factor VIIa administered subcutaneously, intramuscularly or intradermally shows a sufficient transport into the bloodstream in biologically active form and in adequate concentrations, and favourable pharmacokinetic properties.

10
10026032.102501